What is Nu Skin Light Moisturising Cream designed to do?

This cream is designed to provide daily hydration that feels light yet deeply nourishing. It helps smooth texture, restore balance, and keep your skin looking fresh and radiant without greasiness. It’s a versatile step in your routine that works morning or night, whether you’re at home, heading to work, or preparing your skin before sunscreen and makeup.

Can it be used on sensitive skin?

This gentle formula with Ceramides, Hyaluronic Acid, and Allantoin is designed to comfort and support all skin types and may be appropriate for sensitive skin. While it’s formulated to soothe, everyone’s skin is unique—so it’s best to patch-test first and avoid applying near the eye area.

How does it fit into my skincare routine?

Light Moisturising Cream works best after cleansing, toning, and applying serum. It locks in hydration as the last step before sunscreen in the morning and as a comforting overnight moisturiser in the evening. For optimal results, pair it with Nu

Skin Glow Toner and Vitamin C Serum to enhance hydration, brightness, and barrier support.

What makes this moisturiser unique?

Like heavier creams, Light Moisturising Cream delivers deep hydration but in a lightweight texture that won't weigh down your skin or leave a greasy residue. It is uniquely formulated with barrier-strengthening Ceramides, brightening Niacinamide, soothing Allantoin, and revitalising Peptides. Together, these ingredients create a moisturiser that is both effective and gentle—drawing inspiration from traditional Indian wisdom while being powered by Nu Skin's modern scientific expertise.
